Privacy Policy

At Creole Studios, we advocate transparency and lucidity; and therefore we want to give you a clear overview of how we treat your information that we receive from you via Internet.

- When you visit our site, our web servers collect and track your IP address that we later use only to analyse the usage of our website by visitors so that we can better their experience by constantly improving the quality of content on our site. We do not use IP addresses, cookies or other information that we have access to (the number of visits, average time spent, pages viewed, etc.), to trace your personal identification. Hence a user ID remains unknown or anonymous to us in this scenario with only user session being monitored.
- We want you to acknowledge that the information provided by you through our site's registration form is used only by us to respond to your inquiry, process an order or serve you with the best possible solution. Further, you should also know that occasionally, we may use your email addresses to send you the information about our company and that you can unsubscribe receiving future mailings by completing a simple request process.
- We want you to recognize and understand that there is no obligation on you to provide us with your name, email address or any of your personal information; and that you share your personal information with us solely by your own choice. We also want you to realize that any of your personal information that is provided to us without your consent (unless you evince so) shall be deemed to be provided by you; and that we are under no obligation to verify the source of such information.
- Though our website shares links to other sites, we take no responsibility for the content or the privacy practices employed by such websites.
- Should you have any questions regarding our site's privacy policy, practices or your dealings with our site? Write and discuss with us.
